

Susan Austin aka' - JuSusan [just Susan],

a unique, soul jazz composer/writer and vocalist who began singing at age 4 in church, to singing opera in college. Out of her relationship with God and her love for jazz music she founded Soft Sound Music in 2007 and recorded an original gospel jazz CD entitled 'God's Love Ballads'. With strong vocals, she sings a wide spectrum of well-known and original jazz songs that reach the soul and encourages those who hear them to live and love. She has been on the scene since the early 1990s performing in theatre, television commercials and movies, and her vocals has been requested by innumerable public, private, governmental and community agencies and organizations throughout California and abroad. She considers her highest honor in 2008 as she sang in Nelson Mandela's jail cell at Pollsmoor Prison in Cape Town, South Africa.

JuSusan's performance of Contemporary/Soul/Gospel Jazz promises to give you a spirit of inspiration each and every time she takes the stage. Accompanied by her band My Company, you're guaranteed a musical experience like none other.
